The State Canvass.

On the inside of to-day's lesue, we give a paragraph from the Madison Journal, announcing the doings of the State Canvassers up to 4 P. M. of Monday. We learn from Mr. A. B. JACKSON, who returned yesterday morning from Madison that the figures, as made up, without counting supplements, stand as follows:

We understand that Mr. Kuebn, the Treasurer, certified to the correctness of the above figures, which was considered by Mr. Jones to be the chicial canvass, but that Mr. Kuebn had drawn up another statement, counting the Dodge Co. five towns, and two supplements from Adams Co. which statement leaves the same persons elected. The Wisconsin had a dispatch yesterday, stating that the canvass was not commenced up to 4. P. that the canvass was not commenced up to 4 P.

Treasurer Kuchn is, we lear, treading in a dangerous way for himself.

Chippew's County Canvass.

Mr. P. McNally, who says that his home is in Ohippewa County, informs the Janesville Standord that the statement by us, on what we supposed (and still suppose) to be good authority, relative to the wrongful counting of votes in Ohippewa County, was untrue. He says:

The canvass was conducted fairly, and there were no votes counted for Mr. Cross or any other candidate on the Democratic isoket, except those which were legally cast within the county. The charge of fraud in the Canvass of Chippewa Co. is a wholessle falsehood and a calumny upon the people of that county.

A GRATIFYING RESULT.—It will be seen by the official announcement which we publish to-day that the nomination of Gen. Denver as Secretary of Kansas Territory, in place of Frederick P. Stanton, removed, has been confirmed by the Smate. This prompt action of the Sanate in response to the policy of the administration on the subject of Kansas, will be hailed with satisfaction by the country.

Stanton, removed, has been confirmed by the Sanate. This prompt action of the Sanate in response to the policy of the administration on the subject of Kansas, will be halled with satisfaction by the country.

"Satisfaction" may be the prevalent feeling on the Union's side of Mason & Dixon's line; but on this side it is anything but that.

IREBUMAN SHOP!—A horrible affair happened last Thursday night, about three miles from this place, in which Patrick Bowes was shot dead by Timothy Murray. The face a elicited by the inquest were as follows:—John Murray and his wife, and Timothy Murray, (who is not married,) lived in one room of the Murray's house, and Bowes and his wife lived in another room. In IRBUMN SHOT!—A northble attait happened last Thursday night, about three miles from this place, in which Patrick Bowes was shot dead by Timothy Murray. The faces elicited by the inquest were as follows:—John Murray and his wife, and Timothy Murray, (who is not married,) lived in one room of the Murray' house, and Bowes and his wife lived in another room. If the syening Bowes went home partially interithe evening Bowes went home partially intoxi-cated, and abused his wife so that she left and went to a neighbors. After some time spent it scarching for his wife and in threatening, about one o'clock at night Bowes got an axe and went to a neighbors. After some time spent it scarching for his wife and in threatening, about one o'clock at night Bowes got an axe and went to the door of Murray's room and made some attempts to get in. John Murray opened the door when Bowes raised the axe and struck at him, but he avoided the hlow, and caught a club; and while he and Bowes were fighting. Timothy Murray got the gun and shot Bowes through the neck, killing him instantly. The bull passed through the back of his neck, breaking the upper part of the spine. On Friday an inquest was held by Justice Noble, and a verdict rendered according to the above facts. Timothy Murray who had escaped the officers, was arrested near the dividing ridge, this eide of Sparta, and brought through here this (Monday) moraing, on his way to Portage City, where he is to have an examination. We hear that John Murray will also be arrested to-day.—Kilbourn City Mirror.

CLANGE OF TINE.—The elogan of the Democracy a short time since, was, that "the negro bad no rights that the white man was bound to respect."

Mr. Buchanan has improved on this, and genuicates the doctrine that "the majority have no rights which the democracy ought to respect."

OUR SCHOOLS.—The Racine Advocate pays our schools a high compliment in the following pargraph:

MILWAUKEE SCHOLLS.—We are indebted to the publishers, or some friend in Milwaukee for a few days. The best talk against him, even to the east, at least for a few days. The Precident is highly elaced with the action of the Senate in confirming Gen. Mitwauker Schools.—We are indebted to the publishers, or some friend in Milwaukee, for a neatly printed Catalogue of the students of "Milwaukee Female College." From it wa learn that it registers 258 pupils, and the cost of tuition ranges from $24 to $36 per annum.

This is an institution of which Milwaukeo may well be proud. If it was a public institution, and some proportion of the taxes of her citizens went to educate the youth and beauty daily collected there, we think they would have lar less occasion to complain of a misapplication of their treasure. When a city has learned the lesson of expending judiciously for the education of its youth, its success is no problem. The object of Sir William Gore Ousley's Mission will not be specifically communicated to the State Department until the opinion of Her Majesty's Government, relative to that part of the President's Message concerning Central America, shall have been accertained.

More than one hundred thousand dollars have been distributed by the Sergeantat-Arms in part payment of the mileage due to Members of Congress.

expending judiciously for the cuccation of its youth, its success is no problem.

We see, also, by the papers of that city, that the new Public School building is to be openeded, with an efficient corps of teachers, about the first of January next. This new building of theirs is a splendid structure, and is without any doubt the best of its kind in the State.

OITY MATTERS.

We commend to our readers the following A HANDSOME STEAM ENGINE,-At the Badger adicious and sensonable article from the N. Y. Iron works of Messis. Menzel, Cummings & Good-Tribune. What larger Cities have recently done rich, a day or two since, we were shown a very to stop the flood of municipal corruption and to handsome, and we think durable and convenient oring back the administration of their lecal afengine just completed by them for the Brewery fairs to simpler, more efficient and economical standards, Milwaukse may profitably do at our engine on the horizontal plan, provided with a The simplest, safest and cheapest government in the world is that of the town as established in Massachusetts. It has no pomps and no perquisites, and it is almost naked of fitular honors. The officers are the Selectmen, the Town Glerk, the Treasurer, who is usually the Collector of Taxes, the assessors and the School Committee. To few of these offices is a salary attached, and those functionaries who are paid are paid little. The rulers of the small commonwealth are annually elected in the town meeting and are selected. trong bed plate and all the necessary appliance-, finished in the most workman like order; includng a new, and we think valuable improvement upon the Governor, valve invented by Mr. Menzel himsel? Although not as large as some engines which have been got up in this city, yet for com-pactnoss and excellence of finish we are inclined o think this one will carry off the palm, East or The rulers of the small commonwealth are annually elected in the town meeting, and are selected for their prudence and housely. The smallest fell from financial grace—the speculation of a conty—in fact, even a had bargain, would send the derolict to private life. The solid men of the community acknowledge their responsibility and undertake their share of the public work, which, if it does not bring them the pence, may bring them the praise and esteem of their fellow-citizens, with a very tall tombstone when they make the final and morate bendle. The citizens of the little towns, whether male or femule, are like the partners of a firm, and keep a sharp eye out for the managers. If the poor are not economically provided for—if the reads are not well repaired—if the schoolmaster is not what he should be, those who are to blance are sure to be called to West : we think soldom is a finer piece of workmanship turned out. This orgine can be seen at the Badger works for a few days, and if the examination of an elegant piece of machinery is any gratification, then who will devote a few moments to the inspection of it will be amply repuid. Engineers are particularly invited to call and take a look at it. Messrs. Menzel & Co., have facilities for manufacturing engines, boilers and indeed almost every description of machinery, which enable the managers. If the poor are not economically provided for—if the reads are not well repaired—if the schoolmaster is not what he should be, those who are to blame are sare to be called to account in town meetings, and called too, pretty plaryly. Not a dollar can be spent which the people do not expressly vote in open town meeting to spend. Every item is limited. There is so much for the poor, so much for the roads, and so much for the poor, so much for the roads, and so much for the minister, but that day has gone by. And if the people are disposed to be extravagant, they are restrained by various decisions of the Supreme Court, which has from its foundation, more than half a century ago, set its face resclutely against any town appropriations except for them to compete successfully with the most extensive eastern manufacturies, and to our readers in the country, who send to Buffalo and other castern cities for machinery, thinking they can buy there much cheaper, we would say call at this establishment before you go further cast. COMPLIMENT TO MRS. REDFIELD .- The Homes

Republican pays the following deserved tribute to Mrs. Redfield, of Syracuse, New York :- We have taken much trouble in examining a 'Chart more than half a century ago, set its face resolutely against any town appropriations except for strictly town purposes. As communities have grown large they have sped the excesses and extra the excesses and extra the excesses of the cities. M. Redfield, of Syracuse. Mrs. Redfield is a lady of high literary and scientific acquirements, and has expended largely in time and money for the preparation and publication of this Chart. It seems to us to be capable of doing much good in our schools. B. Woolworth, and many other men of a like literary character, have and toon a tax-ra et. It in a curious fact that the people of many ancient towns in Massachusetts have not been content with this simple and cheap system. They have pined to hear their abiding-place called a city. They have hankered after that commendiate creature, a Mayor. They have wanted Aldermen. They have yearned for Common Councilmen.—They have yearned for Common Councilmen.—They have been thread into the consequence has been that many of the venerable towns of the State have been turned into fire-cities. Among these are Springfield, Worcester, New-Bedford, Fall River and Chelsea, which no thore needs a city form of government than a coach needs a fire form of government than a coach needs a fire that the same of the coach of the coach of the same of t compare with it. BATTLE CREEK, Dec. 12th.

Leonard Starkweather, aged about 70 years, and one of our eldest residents, killed his wife last evening. It appears that they had an altoration, during which he struck her several blows on the nead with a hickory club, fracturing her skull and inflicting other injuries, from the effects of which she expired talf an hour afterwards. Four blows appear to have been given, either one of which, it is adjuged, was sufficient to cause death. He was immediately taken into custody, and was not made aware of the fatal effects of his act until this morning. When informed of it he exhibited the greatest consternation, alarm and regret. Intemperance is said nation, alarm and regret. Intemperance is said to be the cause of this terrible tragedy. The Coroner's inquest is being held this morning.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 16

"Here She Goes and there She Goes." Our neighbor of the News "halts between two opinions." On one day it warmly endorses Senator Douglas, in his opposition to the bogue Lecompton Constitution. On the next it heart ily commends the wisdom and patriotism of Mr. Buchanan's views in support of the same Constitution. This is the latest phase; which is not at all surprising, considering the official relations between the President and the Postmaster and the very precarious tenure, in these times of political offices. Thus, the News of yester day discouraes as follows:

The question of the admission of Kansas was handled with Mr. Buchanan's usual skill and patriotism; he stated the case frankly and foreibly to Congress and the country, and left it to Congress to determine as it shall seem wise and just. If the Republicans were to have the charge of this business, the country would articipate or of this business, the country would anticipate an alarming conflict. Not now so, however. The present question was raised by Democrats and by Democrats will be decided.

This fact seems to be recognized by the Re-publicans—and further, they betray much unea-siness at the prospect of an honorable settlement of our internecine difficulties. They see tha Kansas will be dealt fairly by, that she is certain to come into the Union, at an early day, a free State; and that this is to be effected by the De-

We have not yet had the good fortune to mee with a Republican who sees any such thing. Nor do our advices from Washington indicate such entire harmony and loving concord,on this Kansas question, among the "National Democracy, that one would infer from reading the News. Iudeed the political Carometers all indicate stormy weather, and the political skies are full of por tents. We need not speak of the Douglas raid upon the Administration, nor of the summary upon the Administration, nor of the summary statements of Secretary Stanton for standing up for fair play in Kubsas. Let us rather point to the signals thrown out by the semi-official or. I the signals thrown out by the semi-official or. I the signals thrown out by the semi-official or. Thus the Washington Star of December 9th, after announcing the fate of Secretary Stanton, adds this word of warning:

This measure of State indicates that we are correct in proclaiming, as we have done, that there can be no half-way position on the Kansas question as it has been precipitated upon the National Administration and Congress. Those occupying a common platform with reference to it, side by side with Senators Soward and Hale, cannot be recorded up hereafter entitled to Them. cannot be regarded as hereafter entitled to Dem-

The Administration, supported by the bulk of the Northern Democracy, stand with the South in the struggle. But Black Republicanism is reinforced by the defection of Democrats in whose fidelity we have been accustomed to repose implicit confidence. The contest will be arduous and of doubtful issue."

We might multiply these extracts by columns; but enough is as good as a feast. The spirit of the entire Pro-Slavery Press may be gathered from the above. The final and decisive struggle between the opposing forces of FEREDON and SLAVERY is close at hand. It will be " ardnone." no doubt, and nossibly protracted, but the Right must triumph in the end, and our Republic become in fact, as in name, the Land of the Free!

This difference of opinion among the State Canvassers does not affect the result on any one of the candidates: since, with, or without the supplements, Randall, Hastings, and McGraw, on the Republican ticket, and Campell, Jones, Borck, Squires and Draper, on the Domocratic dicket, are indisputably elected. But the question, as to the right of the State Canvassers to c. unt any or all supplements that may be sent up to them, ought to be settled as soon as may be. The law prescribes their duties, and they have neither authority nor discretion to go beyond its requirements and provisions. The course of Secretary Jones is what we expected of him, and that of Messes. Kurin and Smiri precisely what we looked for from thom. They have "followed in the footsteps of their illustrious predecessors," and proved their Baratow faith by their works. Happily the official places that now know them, will know them no more.

The army consists of sineteen regiments, divided into ten of infantry, four of artillery, two of dragoons, two of draylor and one of mounted infemen. The whole strength of the army, as posted, consists of about 17,984 men; and the actual etrength on the first of July last, was 15, 763. The Secretary of Warthinks that to ronder governmental protection perfect, five additional regiments would answer the perpose, if properly posted;—he suggests the propriety of asking from Congress this increase.

In view of this menacing aspect of officiars in Utah, and of the importance of promptly suppressing the spirit of rebellion there, the Scoretary repeats his recommendation for the immediate addition of at least five new regiments to he service.

The Secretary alludes to divers defacts in the service which ought be to remedied. One error is the separate, independent character of the Staff Corps. Another defect is to be found in the uncertain and ill-defined rights of brevet rank; and a still more serious fault is the promotion by seniority, a practice that has been abandoned even in a most aristocratic and menarchical nations. To correct these, and other evils, the Secretary urgus upon Congress so to provide for the construction of the regiments of horse, artillery and infantry, as to approximate them to the practice of all nations long expericuced in war, and so as to admit their contraction for peace, and their re-expansion in war, tion for peace, and their re-expansion in war, without altering this basis. This can be done without any increase of officers or men, or augmentation of expense.

The Scoretary recommends that all the offi-cers of the Staff should be collected into one corps. Promotion may be made a reward of morit and an inequitive to zeal by ensuring that merit and an inequitive to zeal by enacting that it shall take place by scalinity in corps, (unless in extraordinary cases,) to the rank of Captain, and beyond that by selection from the next grade in the same arm to that, to be filled as far as Colonel inclusive. It says: If any of Mr. Buchanan's supporters during the canvas had dared to lisp the menstrous doctrine new advanced by the Washington Union, that the right in property is paramount to all constitutional law—that the slaveholder has the right to take his slaves into any free State, and that the state heavy in the property in its property in the property in that the State is bound to protect him is so hold-ing his slaves—neither Mr. Buchsnan nor his Cabinet would now be occupying the places the

It seems that Cochrane was right in his exposition of the duty of Democrats; Mr. Buchanan has removed the recusant Attorney. His organs take particular pains to explain that the removal was not so much for opposing Wood, as for violating the principles of the party.

The Dutles of Carriers. A suit was tried before Judge Foots in the Court of Common Pleas yesterday, in which J. B. Johnson sought to recover of H. N. Gates the value of eight hundred and nineteen grindstones, shipped on a vessel belonging to Mr. Gates. The principal facts in the case appeared to be that the grindstones were put on the vessel of this port without a bill of lading, but with the understanding that they were to be taken to Milwaukee. Three or four days after the departure of the vessel, bills of lading, consigning the grindstones to C. H. Bell in Milwaukee, were signed by Mr. Gates, who did not appear, however, to have forwarded instructions to his captain to deliver the goods, in accordance with the hills of lading. GLUB RATES FOR THE WERELT.

From the "Atlantic" Monthly. The Wind and Stream. A brook came stealing from the ground;
You scarcely saw its all very gloam
Among the herbs that hung around
The borders of that winding stream,—
A pricty stream, a placid stream,
A softly gliding, bashful stream,

A breeze come wandering from the sky, Light as the oblepers of a dream; He put the dreinance grasses by, And gayly suoped to his the stream,— The pretty stream, the flattered thream, The shy, yettenreluctant stream.

The water us the wind passed o'er, Shot upwir i many a gland g beam, Dimpled sand quivred more and more, And tripped slong a livelier stream,— The Busterd stream, the simpering stream, The fond, delighted, silly stream.

Away the siry warderer firm.
To where the fields with Libesons to m,
To sparsling springs and rivers blue,
And left aft no that little aream,—
The flattered stream, the cheated stream,
Thes: ", foresken, lonely stream.

That careless wind no more came back;
He wonders yet the fields, I drem;
But of its melan they track
Complaining wont that fille stream,—
The cheated at care, the hopeless stream,
The ore morporting, meaning stream, New and Curious Printing Machine.—There

s no end to the progress of inventive genius, lock exploits on a grand scale, seem to bid defigure to competition, but some happy thought, directed by accident perhaps, may result in throwing even his wonderful inventions into the shade. At the other end of the serious, the contrivence of simple, portable printing machines, tivence of simple, portable printing machines, stands a recent invention of Mr. S. W. Francis, of Frenkfort street, in this city. Mr. Francis has availed hinself of the simple and efficient arrangement of the finger-board of the plane-forte, each key standing for a letter, by which he plays out printed lines with the same facility with which the musician throws off his melodies.

His lammers are types, and all the strings or wires he uses are for the management of his types and the sheet to be printed. As to speed, he star a that he can print "seven letters in a second." Two copies may be printed at the same time, on the principle of the letter copying press. The types may be of any size required. Mr. Francis believes that for editors, clergymen, &c., the use of this is preferable to the pen, and cortainly for reporters and the like, uside from the inconvenience of transportation. It is a very useful invention, and clergymen whose sight is defective can hardly fall to find it of great convenience. For expitals, Mr. Francis uses the lower case with a dash over the letter. Whether he can multiply his keys so as to include a set of capital letters, without interfering with his mechanism, we are fuot Informed. But he has contrived an ingenious and efficient machine, for which we home he will receive a large occuriany contrived an ingenious and efficient machine, for which we hope he will receive a large pocuniary reward.—Ex

OMAR PACHA'S WIFE,-Mmc. Omar Pacha has OMAR FACEL'S WIFE,—Alme: Omar Faceh has arrived at Paris, and we learn from the Partie of Nov. 14th some facts in regard to her history.—She was born at Reps, in Transylvania, and was scut to a first class school at Rucharest when 11 years of age. She there showed great musical capacity, and, at fifteen, was a fine planist.—Omer Pacha, then military commandant in Wallachia, met her at a soires, and as he loved music as well as intelligent conversation, and had none lactia, met her at a soiree, and as ke loved music as well es intelligent conversation, and had none of the Turkish ideas in regard to the proper aphere of women, he fell in love with her, courted and married her. She adopted Musculman habits, never went out except veiled and attended by ennuchs, but still accompanied her husband on all his warbke expeditions. As also was much interested in mi itary glory, she wrote riumphal murches, which were played by the Turkish bands on going to bottle. The only child of this marriage died, and Omer Pacha thought that a new marriage would give him an helr.—Pe haps, too, he wanted to ingratiate himself with the old Turkish party. At all events, he demanded in marriage the daughter of Hafts Pacha, the leader of this party. "Remain in my harem," said he to his wife. But she was too proud for this, and demanded a divorce; having obtained which, she has come to France to obobtained which, she has come to France to ob-tain an honorable asylum. Mme. la Marachale Omer is only 23 years old, has the innocent graces of a young girl, a complexion of dazzling whiteness, and splendid auburn hair. It has been erroniously stated that sho is seeking diversion in the gay world; on the contrary, she Stores and Offices fitted up in the Nextest Style.

But the man regretted his original bettle nose, and such the railway com-pany for $2,000 damages, showing a want of gratitude to science which all the faculty justly

It is reported that Mad. Lela Montez will shortly enter the matrimonial fetate again. Her prospective husband is said by the newspapers to be a foreign gentleman of rank and wealth.

Foote once asked a man without a sense of tune in him "why are you forever humming that tune?" "Because it haunts me," was the reply. "No wender," said Foote, you are forever murdering it."
